COMMISSIONERS HELD REGULAR SESSION

Many Matters of Interest Came Before the Board Last Night. Protest on Location of Saloon.

The County Commissioners met in regular session last night, with Commissioners Avery, Andrews, Wiggins and Steward present.

D. W. Nims & Son made application for a license to sell liquors in Precinct 12, but on account of a technical error in the application it was withdrawn by the attorney, Scott M. Loftin. There was a strong protest filed by residents of the precinct near the proposed location of the saloon, corner Alcaniz and Branford streets, C. M. Jones representing the signers of the protest.

A regular meeting for taking up the application for permits to sell liquor was ordered for the first Tuesday in September.

On motion a portion of the insurance on the court house and annex was ordered given to the Escambia Realty Co., which was represented by Geo. P. Wentworth.

Supervisor of Registration W. M. J. Scott asked for a desk and an office in the court house annex where he could work on his books and his request was granted.

R. J. Brewton appeared on behalf of a destitute sick man, Frank Taylor, in the northern part of the county. It was ordered that the unfortunate man be received at the poor house as soon as he could be moved.

The applications for permits to sell liquor as made at the previous meeting were granted.

A bill from the Jacksonville Times-Union for $250.00 for a page advertisement published a year ago in the Times-Union's World's Fair edition was referred to the county attorney.

A number of applications for the position of janitor at the court house were received and balloted upon. The first ballot resulted in a tie—two votes each for Robt. Gonzalez and Jno. C. Brownham. The second ballot also resulted in a tie and it was therefore ordered that the matter lie over to the next meeting.

The contract for supplying groceries for the poor farm for the coming month was awarded to Rosenau & Gerold, the lowest bidder.

On petition of a number of citizens on the public road from rimoville to Atmore, the road was ordered changed to meet the greater requirements of the residents of that section.

On petition of citizens in the vicinity of Cantonment a portion of the "Wilson Station road" was ordered discontinued and a new road was opened.

W. H. Caro submitted a license bond for the privilege of carrying on the lowest bidder's shop.

The application of A. F. Perry, of Beulah, for a pension was endorsed.

County Attorney Reese submitted an opinion to the effect that the County Commissioners had no authority to pay the expenses of a permanent harbor police as previously requested by the pilot commissioners.

On motion, it was ordered that the Pensacola Abstract Co., which is now using two rooms in the court house annex for the purpose of copying the records should be given notice to vacate the rooms.

Commissioner Andrews spoke in reference to the roads in his district and his remarks brought on a general discussion as to the necessity for preparing a map showing the public roads in the county, though no definite action was taken on the matter.

The board then adjourned.

Atlanta, Aug. 8.—The Sanford jury has notified Judge Wright that they cannot agree on a verdict. Apparently there is no hope for anything but a mistrial. At this hour (10 o'clock) the court had not announced what course it will take as to keeping the jury together or discharging them.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalp of these men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. ## BOTH SIDES ARE REMAINING FIRM

The Jacksonville Times-Union of yesterday has the following relative to the strike and lockout of the union men in that city:

Both sides to the controversy in the strike and lockout of union carpenters in Jacksonville are remaining firm, and all efforts to reach a settlement yesterday were without avail.

It developed yesterday that the position of the Builders' Exchange was firm and that they would certainly not yield from their position unless absolutely compelled to do so. So far as arbitration is concerned, there has been nothing of this kind suggested, and it is doubtful if either party to the controversy will yield a peg.

Several months ago the leading contractors who are interested in this movement to have an open shop came to the conclusion that they would have to take this step to protect themselves and the organization of the Builders' Exchange was the result. Now that the fight is on it is evident that the contractors affiliated with the Builders' Exchange will insist that the open shop prevail. This demand on the part of the exchange is one that will never be acceded to by the union. If it is possible for the union to hold out. Such a surrender would be a surrender of everything and this cannot be expected at an early date.

To Stick to Union.
That this is the step which the exchange is working to accomplish was discussed at a meeting of the union carpenters Sunday, and it was determined to make every effort and if necessary to call on outside help in order to maintain the union intact. Taking this as the base for the fight against them on the part of the contractors, the Carpenters' Union will soon make an official appeal to all other unions connected with the Structural Building Alliance to stand to them in this fight.

As the days pass without a settlement it appears that the issues are getting farther apart and there is now a likelihood of several weeks of hostilities becoming involved. It is estimated that if the strike extends to the other trades in building there will be a thousand men out in a few days.

When the Board of Trade meets Wednesday night there may be an effort made to appoint a committee to study the situation. But it is evident that if such a step as that is taken it will not be inspired by any of the members of the Builders' Exchange, who feel that they have the situation well in hand and who last night expressed a confidence that they would win the fight against the union carpenters.

Carpenters Meet Frequently.
The union carpenters are meeting frequently and are receiving assistance from each other to a certain extent. There are a number of jobs which are continuing and over which the Builders' Exchange has no control. But these jobs are small ones. The union men are being employed there and not all of the three hundred carpenters who have either walked out or who have been locked out are out of employment. Some of them are working on these jobs, while others have sought other employment.

Efforts to get work started on the buildings where the carpenters are out has been without avail, and work is not resumed on the Consolidated building, which was up to the sixth story and waiting for the window casings when the men walked out.

The carpenters aver that they are in a position to hold out indefinitely, stating that they have the key to the situation, and that they can prevent work on any of the big jobs which are under way. In the meantime, the delay will prove expensive to contractors who have a stipulation to complete their work within a specified time.

Exchange Met Last Night.

There was a meeting of the Builders' exchange last night at which nearly every member was present. The strike situation occupied the attention of the meeting far into the night, but there was nothing given out for publication. As yet there has not been any considerable number of carpenters from other cities brought here, and it is said that the effort in this direction has been without avail.

At a late hour last night the announcement was made by both parties to the controversy that the situation was practically unchanged.

MUCH SUFFERING FROM STRICT QUARANTINE

Louisiana in Need of Medical Supplies and Other Necessities. Dr. White's Advice to Women.

By Associated Press.
New Orleans, Aug. 8.—Some probability exists that there will shortly be considerable relaxation of quarantine restrictions in Louisiana. Governor Blanchard is urging President Southerland of the State Board of Health, to take steps toward that end, and Dr. Southerland's energy in the matter is already beginning to show results, his intimation of litigation in St. Landry having so modified the quarantine in that parish that it is to be opened to all freight forwarded in fumigated cars. Governor Blanchard says he is receiving complaints of suffering from many parts of the state.

Medicines, ice and coal and many other necessities are wanted and there is a demand everywhere for mail service. He says also that most distressing conditions will come about if the telegraph and telephone services are interrupted, and that the way should be cleared for repairs and linemen to keep these services in order. The State Board of Health has complete supervisory control over all quarantines and steps are to be taken to exercise that control. Meantime the marine hospital service is to send representatives to attend conferences of various health boards, to explain the mosquito theory, to show that the mosquito cannot be transmitted by freight and to urge uniformity in the quarantine regulations.

State Aid Endorsed.
Lieutenant Governor Sanders and Speaker of the House Snyder, men of large influence in the two branches of the legislature, have announced hearty support of the proposition for state aid to the extent of $100,000 in the present emergency. The state has a plethoric treasury and the fiscal agents are ready to advance the money whenever the governor asks for it. The appearance of many cases in St. Mary and St. Charles parishes has intensified state interest in the fight here and promises to make practically unanimous support of the governor in borrowing the money now.

An appeal has been sent by President Godchaux and Secretary Mayo, of the progressive union, to the managing editors of leading newspapers asking them to guard their columns against alarming reports and grotesque exaggeration of the situation here. No complaint is made against the publication of the full facts of the local conditions, but it is desired that false ideas of the situation should be spread broadcast. Full confidence is expressed in the ability of the federal government to stamp out the disease before frost.

That country towns which impose radical quarantines are themselves the chief sufferers is evidenced by the fact that Greenville, Miss., which refused to take letters from New Orleans unless now fumigated and no papers at all has now written Postmaster Woodward that it is willing to receive the former even without disinfection. Dr. White has addressed a meeting of representative people at the home of Bishop Sossoms, of the Episcopal church. This was the advice he gave to the ladies present.

Advice to Ladies.
"Don't visit unnecessarily. Don't go out unless business calls you. Don't leave your homes unless it is to go shopping or to church. Don't wear low-quarter shoes. Don't go without a veil. Don't go out without gloves. Both are a precaution against the stegomyia fasciata."

He said the doctors could be of great assistance in reporting every case no matter how slight, promptly. A little child might have a low fever for a dozen hours, be bitten by mosquitoes and a couple of weeks later the mosquitoes, which had bitten it, might infect the rest of the family with virulent yellow fever.

The New Orleans Medical Society expressed its satisfaction that the whole fever situation had passed to the control of the federal authorities, and promised full co-operation in the work to be done by the visiting doctors.

Hetofore the marine hospital surgeons as a rule have appeared in civilian dress. Now, however, that they have assumed official control of the situation, all the members of the corps on duty are to wear their uniforms which will carry authority and respect wherever they go.

GOV. BROWARD IN JACKSONVILLE

Governor Broward spent yesterday in this city and during the entire day mingled with his friends, discussing state matters and considering several important questions in connection with his administration, says the Jacksonville Times-Union of Tuesday.

As a matter of course, Governor Broward is at home in Jacksonville, and while he met a great many people, the meetings were quiet affairs and the day proved a pleasant one.

"I am gratified at the condition of the state as to health," Governor Broward said. "I believe that there is just as little danger from yellow fever as there is in a northern state, and I certainly approve of the manner in which the State Board of Health has been conducting matters. I have no more anxiety, and while my trip to Hot Springs, Ark., has been a little delayed on account of what was transpiring in the matter of guarding the public health, I am going to start tonight on my trip, and expect to be gone for several days at least. Florida will never suffer from another epidemic of disease. I am almost content of that."

That Marion County Judgeship. During the past few days the governor has been interested in what has been said about his action in the appointment of Joseph H. Bell as county judge for Marion county, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of General Bullock. There has been a great deal of criticism directed against the governor for his action in this case, and some of it has been severe. In referring to it yesterday Governor Broward said:

"In the first place I appointed the man who had the best recommendations for the position. There were twelve applicants for the position, and Mr. Bell seemed to have the best recommendations. I do not know Mr. Bell personally, but he was born in Marion county, is a reputable lawyer, and appears to be a gentleman of the highest standing in his profession and among his people.

Committee Did Not Meet.

"So far as the executive committee is concerned, the committee was called together and I was informed by wire that there was not a quorum present. They stated in the telegram that they would make another effort to meet next Thursday. I did not know whether or not they would fall to meet next Thursday, and as I wanted to get off for a few days, I appointed the man who had the best recommendations for the place. I acted because I thought that the office was of such importance that it ought to be filled as
